

Presents MDP On

Enhancing Personal Effectiveness in Manufacturing Operations

Overview

Personal Effectiveness in a manufacturing workplace refers to making the best use of man, machine, material and time in order to achieve the company objectives. It does not happen through run of the mill thinking, planning and performance. It also does not happen only by improving soft skills or only improving technical skills. It happens when one does not hesitate to be different to bring in changes for better performance. To do something different one requires good grip on knowledge, system, application, implementation, continuation and constant evolution. And these changes have to happen at all levels.

Focus Areas

- Knowing the term 'Effectiveness'
- Understanding the basics of Personal Effectiveness (PE)
- Methodical process of improving personal effectiveness linking the process with company objectives

- PE measurement process & its implementation methodology
- Steps towards building an error free quality management system across the operational framework

Approach

- Classroom Presentations with appropriate graphics
- Question/answers, case studies, experience sharing by faculty & participants.

Target Audience

Middle and Senior Level Executives of all departments directly or indirectly contributing to manufacturing activities.

Course Fees

1. Life/Patron - 1500/- per participant + taxes
 2. BMA Members-1700/- per participant + Taxes
 3. Non Members-2000/- per participant + Taxes
 4. Student – 800/- per participant + Taxes.
- *(Kindly contact us for Group Discounts)

Date

22nd February, 2019

Time

9:30am-5:30pm

Faculty

Ravindra Biswas:

Mr Ravindra Biswas is a Mechanical Engineer (Gold Medalist) from NIT and MBA in Finance. He is a 6-Sigma Black Belt and business excellence trainer & implementer. Mr Biswas has rich experience in the field of automotive, heavy & light engineering, machine tools, foundry, telecommunication and financial services. For the last 17 years he worked as SBU head in the companies he worked in and acquired immense knowledge in strategic as well as operational activities. He served business entities like Tata Group, Birla JV, ABB, Batliboi, Rallis India and few Auto component manufacturing front runners.

FOR MORE DETAILS CONTACT BMA ON THE FOLLOWING

Email: bmabaroda3@gmail.com | VENUE: BMA